

European Value Fund (EVF) is the successor fund to a strategy implemented since 2013. It follows the same long-only European equity approach and typically invests in ~50 individual listed stock positions (predominantly in EUR, GBP), without any constraints on market capitalization (“size”).

EVF aspires to deliver above-market performance over longer time periods by exploiting certain market inefficiencies (e.g., short term focus, career risk, benchmark hugging) and by relying on positions with strong value characteristics and positive momentum. EVF aims to always be fully invested; it does not use leverage, derivatives or shorting of equities. EVF can and will apply certain sector exclusions as well as minimum requirements for market liquidity.
